Examples are yahoo.com or reddit. I know these websites are not popular enough to have any in depth study done before they decide to do so. Are there any data sources that will reflect the future changes of these websites? I need to predict the trend and hence the traffic of these websites. A: There are a number of things you could do: Keyword data from other sites. The change of the websites to their new local schema, there are some TONS of ways you can identify and get the information. If the site is using AJAX, check how long it takes for new pages. Similar to number 2, load time is also important for many sites, it's likely they are reducing that. The only b7e8df5c8
