197. Overview ... Chapter 11 "IndraControl V - Visualization Devices" on page 127 pro... decompile software products or modify the source codes. To do this, simply download the appropriate patches from the company's website. In this section, we will talk about how to check your computer for viruses and Trojan horses. This section will be useful both for newcomers to the world of networking technology and for experienced users who wish to protect their computers. All anti-viruses can be conditionally divided into two groups: paid and free. Paid antiviruses are those that come with a license for a specified period of time.
